4	Arts CQ Inc and arts conversations	ArtsCQ Inc. Members from ArtsCQ Inc attended the CHACAC meeting to advise members about their programs and to share ideas and possible projects for the Central Highlands region. ArtsCQ Inc. are not government funded, the program is run from donations and other funding. ArtsCQ Inc. members introduced themselves individually and their explained their skillsets. Mark Svendsen Mark outlined that it had been a long-term goal to visit Central Highlands to introduce ArtsCQ Inc., to meet local artists and hear new and current ideas to form collaborations. Unfortunately, they do not have the capacity to run programs or events, but are interested in lending their knowledge, support and adding some input to projects that they might have additional ideas for. Mark outlined the ArtsCQ Inc. online events calendar is accessible for all to add events or programs, https://artscqinc.org.au/. Once you become a member, your own personalised linked page is auto generated where you can add in details about yourself, projects and art. Oliver Skrzypczynski Oliver specialises in devised theatre which centres around a group of people coming together to create artistic stories and projects from many different collaborative perspectives. He aims to complete training with community members in a way that can benefit the community, by teaching them a multitude of creative skills they can take with them and teach others. Oliver provides a unique way of storytelling through theatre by encouraging creation to encompass a range of ideas that contribute to projects utilising the experiences of different

		cultures, disabilities, nationalities, gender, religion and many more to help encourage diversity. Oliver also had a proposal to our region with focus towards youth. Jessica Lamb Jessica has been pushing to make different offers of arts available to the regions, implementing events and programs that encourage the audiences to be involved. Jessica also touched on a program that was rolled out under her management called 'Rockpocalypse' www.arts.qld.gov.au/case-studies/rockpocalypse. This opened up a wide range of problems faced within the Rockhampton region which were integrated into a performance. Examples such as aiming to be environmentally responsible versus wanting to support local jobs such as mining, how conflicting that can become, along with many issues with authority and academia in the area. Andrew Palmer Andrew added that they are offering facilitation and support to encourage new types of art programs and events similar to the examples given by Jessica and Oliver. ArtsCQ Inc. aim to develop relationships with those who are pushing forward with current, new and inventive ideas to help encourage and foster arts in the region. ArtsCQ Inc. provided answers to questions from the committee.
